FENTRESS COPPER MINE SOLD.

Deal That Means Much for Guilford County.

The famous Fentress copper mine, in Guilford county, has passed into the hands of a northern capitalist, who will at once begin to develop it. The following account of the sale, with something of the history of the mine, is taken from Mr. I E. Avery's correspondence in today's Charlotte Observer. We clip it in its entirety:

"The Fentress copper mine, situated in Guilford county, ten miles south of Greensboro, and three miles east of Pleasant Garden, a station on the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railroad, has been transferred by the heirs of Cyrus P. Mendenhall and Isaac H. Stanley to Herbert Carl and others, of New York city, who will commence at once to develop the property on a scale commensurate with its importance. The deal was made through W. R. Land, a real estate agent at Greensboro.

"The history of this mine may be found interesting. It was first known as the Fentress mine, afterwards as the North Carolina copper mine, and lastly as the Consolidated Mining Company. The tract contains 93 acres Frederederick Fentress, the owner, in 1857, discovered a vein of gold-bearing ore on his property, and began to operate in a primitive way, going down in the vein to a depth of 40 or 50 feet, when water was encountered and the ore changed into a copper sulphuret, which would not yield to the simple method for sparating gol', then in vogue.

"Fentress then sold the property to the North Carolina Copper Min Company for $5,000, reserving for himself one-tenth interest in the product of the mine. This company opened and worked the mine from 1853 to 1859, being limited in their operations by lack of transportation. At that period the copper was cobbed out, barrelled and hauled 100 miles to Fayetteville, at the head of navigation on the Cape Fear river, thence by flat-boat to Wilmington, where it was shipped by sailing craft to Boston. Transportation in this manner cost $13 a ton, but as copper ore was worth $90 per ton, the mine prove profitable.

"In 1859, after some litigation, the company paid Fentress $10,000 for his one-tenth interest, and reorganized under the name of the Carolina Mining Company. The North Carolina railroad, was then finished, affording communication with the north, and Greensboro became a central shipping point. Smelters and other machinery were introduced in the mine, and the output of copper was largely augmented. From 1859 to 1861 the owners of this mine made an immense sum of money, and the fame of the Consolidated Mining Company reached New York city, its stock becoming the subject of extensive speculation.

"The civil war came, and the company, composed principally of men from New York and Baltimore, with offices in Baltimore, was unable to further prosecute its operations. It then closed after it had reached a capitalization of $2'0,000, and had caused a great boom in all southern mining property.

"Subsequently the property was sold under execution and passed into other hands, and thence to the present owners. Of course the mine has been greatly damaged by the abandonment of an attempt to keep the water out.

"Prior to 1856, Prof. Ebenezer Emmons, the Geologist for North Carolina, and previously Geologist for New York, said in his report on this property: 'This mine is situated on the eastern edge of the Sienite granite belt of the country, on which openings have been made in the southwestdirection in Davidson, Rowan and Cabarrus counties. All of these mines seem to have been formed in the thin edge of the granite The vein is from 3 to 4 feet thick at a depth of 40 feet; the fissure between the walls is from 7 to 8 feet thick, sometimes expanding to 13 feet. The vein shows no tendency to close in at either of the levels, but widens in descent. The ore, being near the surface, is so acted upon by atmosphere that the pyrites have exodised, setting the gold free The deepest of these shows the unaltered vein three feet thick.'

"Continuing his report, Prof. Emmons says that at the bottom of the 310-foot shaft is a shoot of ore 90 feet mostly solid copper, 34 inches thick, the encouragement for penetrating this lode further being the regularity of its formation. The fissure is well-developed and wide enough to satisfy the oldest and most experienced miner, and, says Prof. Emmons: 'Should this mine fail to give fair returns to its owners, it will be an exception in the annals of mining.'

"This is the history of the celebrated Fentress mine, and its reopening will likely mean much in the development of this county. There is a welcome for this new avenue of Northern enterprise and capital."

THE REBELS ARE SCATTERED

For Miles Around the Town of Calulut.

ONE HUNDRED OF THEM KILLED

And Four Hundred Wounded in the Last Fight--The American Attack Surprised Them.

By Cable to the Telegram

Manila, August 11—McArthur remained last night at Caluletus. The rebels had evidently fled far beyond rifle range, the American outposts not being disturbed, not a shot being fired in the night. At daybreak a reconnoitreing party occupied Angeles after a slight resistance from the rebels, the latter setting fire to the town before leaving. Everything indicates that the rebels are scattered for miles in every direction around Calulut. It is believed that a hundred were killed and four hundred wounded The attack was a complete surprise to the rebels. Most of them were asleep when the American guns opened. The Americans maintained an almost perfect line four miles long, in mud knee deep. The Filipinos tried several times to ambush the Americans, but our troops stopped forcing their way through the obstacles and fired whenever they could locate the enemy.

REBELS' AMMUNITION SHORT.

Manila, August 11—There is reason to believe the report that that the rebels are short of ammunition is true Natives say the insurgents had only forty rounds each. Five rounds extra were issued just before the fight.

OFF FOR THE PHILIPPINES.

New York, August 11—Three hundred and fifty enlisted men and eighteen officers of the United States marine corps, left Jersey City this morning on a Pennsylvania special for San Francisco, whence they will sail for Manila.

FRIENDS' YEARLY MEETING.

At High Point—The Attendance Good.

Special to The Telegram.

High Point, N. C., August 11—The second day of the North Carolina Yearly Meeting of Friends dawned fair and bright yesterday and there was a good attendance at all of the meetings during the day. Services as usual were held at 8:30 o'clock in the morning, conducted by Rev. Edward W. Pugh, of Wilmington, Ohio, who preached an excellent sermon full of encouragement and truth. After preaching, the regular business meeting convened at 19:30 o'clock. This meeting consisted principally of reading epistles from different associations of Friends—New England, Portland, Me; England, London; Ireland, Dublin; Maryland, Baltimore; New York, Poughkepsie; Iowa, Ascaloosa; Indiana, Richmond; Ohio, Damascus; Western, Plainfield, Md; Kansas, Lawrence; Canada, Ontario; California, Long Beach; all of which were listened to with a great deal of interest by the Friends in attendance. A committee was appointed to answer the several epistles from the above associations. There were also several letters from individuals read before the audience. Rev. James R. Jones who was granted a minute two years ago by the N. C. Yearly Meeting of Friends to visit London, Ireland, Denmark, Norway and other foreign places on a lecturing tour was present and gave a history of his travels, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The evening was taken up in reading the reports of the evangelistic work done during the year—one hundred and eigty seven conversions and one hundred and seventeen additions to the church were reported. A contribution was taken for the work next year and a good sum realized. Devotional services were held at night. Several interesting talks were made. The attendance at the meetings this year is as large, if not larger than on former occasions. Representatives from England are expected, but as yet no one has arrived. It is thought they will arrive today or tomorrow.

AID FOR FLOOD SUFFERERS.

Secretary Root Asks Assistance for the Porto Ricans.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Washington, August 11—Secretary Root has prepared an appeal to the people of the United States for aid for the flood sufferers in Porto Rico. The action was taken at the request of the president. The Hotel Champlaine subsistence department in Porto Rico has been telegraphed to render such temporary aid as is possible.

Ward Eshelman, clever son of our postmaster, spent the day in Asheboro on business.

Engineer Haywood Adams and family returned yesterday evening from Norfolk, Va.

Miss Annie B. Carr, daughter of ex-Governor Elias Carr, is the guest of Miss Sallie Millis this week.

Isaac Hibks, of Roslyn, N. Y., and George D. Babcock, of Memphis, Tenn., visited here Thursday.

Jeremiah Cox, J. Van Lindley and G. Pearson, of this county, were in attendance at yearly meeting yesterday.

Hal M. Worth and Mrs. C. C. McAlister and sister passed through last night going to Statesville to visit friends.

Misses Minnie and Dora Teague, of Burlington, arrived last night to visit their brother Maurice, at the home of D. H. Parnell.

Miss Nellie Anderson, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and Mrs. F. M. Harris and children, of Sanford, are visiting their rarents Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Anderson.

Miss Virginia Mauney, one of Salisbury's fair daughters, who has been visiting Miss Anna Tomlinson at Archdale, passed through last evening enroute home.

J. P. Sherrill, postal clerk on the main line, arrived here last night to take the place of postal clerk Cox, on the Asheboro run, who is off duty during yearly meeting.

The Myrtle Furniture Factory began work in earnest this week. H. W. Fraser the owner is a hustler and we bespeak for the enterprise abundant success. The line of goods manufactured will be ladies' desks, office desks, hall racks, etc.

Land sales.—W. L. Smith has purchased one-fourth interest in the land of the late A. B. Smith, which is situated four or five miles south of this place for $400. J. P. Redding buys one-fourth interest in a tract of lying near the Alma furniture factory, also belonging to the late A. B. Smith, for $275.

Misses Rhoda Worth and Margaret Holt, of Greensboro, Abram Fisher, of Pennsylvania, H. C. Hoskins, of Kansas, Mrs. Macy, of Indiana, Mrs. Hammond, of Asheboro, Jasper Thompson, of Tennessee, Mrs. Simond and niece, of Raleigh, are in the city attending yearly meeting stopping with Mrs. S. A. Chandler.

"Uncle Zeb" Lindsay, our "reliable" weather prophet, is a good one. Yesterday he prophesied that it would rain in the evening and sure enough it did. But the best part of all he did not follow his "preaching" or put much confidence in his forecast, as he left home without an umbrella (something unusual) and got a good soaking.

There will be a big time in Asheboro tomorrow, the occasion being a Confederate reunion and basket picnic. All confederate soldiers of Randolph county are especially invited to attend and bring with them their families A cordial welcome is extended to all Confederate veterans of adjoining counties to honor the occasion by their presence, as well as every one else. Take a day off and go down and enjoy yourselves among the battle-scarred heroes of the Southern Confederacy.

Mrs. M. T. Barker is in receipt of a newspaper published at Manila, Island of Luzon, sent to her by her brother who is in the U. S. army out there. The name of this interesting sheet is "Freedom"—the Giant of the Orient—and is thoroughly American from first to last column. It is printed in English and only a few lines of Spanish appear, which are found in some of the advertisements. As you read of the battles recorded in its columns in which our boys were engaged and see the spirit of patriotism displayed by its editor you naturally feel proud that you live in the land of the free—America.

THE BIG DEWEY RECEPTION

It Will Be a Grand And Glorious Affair.

THE ALEXANDRIA LYNCHING

Is Generally Deplored By That City's People --Other Washington News of Interest.

Special to The Telegram.

Washington, D. C., August 11—Preparations for the reception to Admiral Dewey upon his arrival at Washington are being carried on energetically by the local committee. There is no doubt but the injunction given by President McKinley to the committee who called upon him to secure his aid and co-operation to burn "plenty of red fire," will be faithfully carried out, and the night of the admiral's arrival will be a memorable one in the history of the national capital. The general opinion has been that the parade would be held in the daytime, that the admiral would be escorted to the capitol grounds by a grand pageant, but this is not the case. The admiral will be escorted to the capital grounds in the day time by the local committee, and there be presented with the sword voted by congress. The procession will take place the same night. The parade will be a monster one. Every organization in the District of Columbia will be invited to appear in the procession. Every military body, all the civic, fraternal, patriotic, social and benevolent societies, bicycle club, will be included An effort will be made to have each body in line make some distinctive illumination on its own account. Plans for President McKinley's red fire accompaniment are already being considered. There will be a large number of tin holders securely fastened to lamp posts, electric light poles, telegraph poles, awning posts, tree boxes, and every conceivable place. The red fire will be placed in the pans, and lighted as the big parade approaches. The citizens along the line of march will be urged to illuminate and decorate their premises.

The decision of Admiral Dewey not to go West will, in the opinion of the committee, aid in making the Washington reception more of a success, as the crowds will have to come to this section to see him. The railroads will make special excursion rates from different points, west and south as as well as east, and it is anticipated by the committee in charge of the reception that a large crowd will be attracted to Washington at the time. The exact date of the reception cannot be determined, but it will be probably somewhere between the twenty-ninth of September and the first of October. The committee is desirous of having the Admiral come to the city as early in the week as is possible.

President McKinley will not return to Washington for at least two weeks. It is said at the White House that the stay of Mrs. McKinley has resulted in much benefit to her, and as long as she continues to improve, and there is no particular occasion for the return of the President to Washington, they will remain at Plattsburg. There are very few cabinet officials, or other high officials, outside of the war department remaining in Washington at this time. Most of the officials are taking advantage of the President's absence to take their own vacations. It is said that the only official who will remain in Washington during the entire summer is Secretary Gage. The Secretary has a handsome country home at Chevy Chace, one of the most beautiful suburbs of Washington, easy of of access to the city, and Mr. Gage and family will spend the summer there. This enables him to come to Washington and attend to his duties at the Treasury whenever occasion demands.

The War Department officials are apparently the only ones who find plenty to do during the present month, and is is said it is doubtful if most of them will take any vacation this year.

Col. J. Hamilton Lewis, the well known ex-representative from Washington state, is in the city for a few days. Mr. Lewis is here principally upon legal business in which he is interested. In conversation the other day he said that the democracy is in fine shape for the presidential campaign throughout the west. He is in favor of the nomination of Bryan for president and Admiral Schley for vice president.

Alexandria people who come to Washington generally deplore the lynching in that city the other night, though most of them say that it was openly stated on the streets during the day and early evening that the negro would be hanged. Why the officials did not, when they had the opportunity, remove the prisoner to Washington or Richmond, or some other place of safety is what most people cannot understand. It was reported here yesterday morning that Governor Tyler would investigate the affair.

Col. A. B. East, a prominent lawyer and democratic politician, of Ohio, is in the city for a few days. Col. East formerly practiced law at Richmond, Virginia, and has many friends in this section.

C. O. Brown and Roy C. Ramsey, of Charlotte, North Carolina, are in the city for a few days stopping at the Metropolitan Hotel.

A new postoffice has been established at Cordova, Richmond county, North Carolina.

RETAILERS GALORE.

Six of Them Jailed Today, the Result of Chief Scott's Work.

Will Farabee, Giles Ingram, Amos Phillips, Henry Shelton, all colored; William Snydor, a white man, and Essie Irving, a white woman of abandoned character. These are six new prisoners who have been placed behind the bars of Guilford county jail today They are there for retailing whiskey. Henry Murphy, who is the king of retailers just now, and whose name is as familiar to the police as any of the above, was also arrested, but by a pretty ruse escaped from Officer Pearce and is now in the woods.

If Will Scott, chief of the Greensboro police, isn't a detective we don't know him. Since the dispensary opened he has sawed wood all alone and this morning, six weeks after the barrooms closed, he procured twenty-one warrants and with the aid of the force, has been serving them all day. The above named illegal dispensers of firewater are the harvest, up to two o'clock. Some of them are indicted in a number of cases and all of them in more than one.

They will be tried in the mayor's court this afternoon, and the chief has the evidence that will send every one of them to Superior court. The chief is much pleased with the catch, though he is somewhat blue over the loss of his best man (Murphy). Murphy worked a nice game on officer Pearce. He keeps a store on East Market street, and this is where he was arrested. The officer thought it unnecessary to cuff him at first and was going to allow him to lock his shop, but Murphy was mentally depicting the inconvenience of being locked in jail, and while the officer was waiting the negro bounded out the back door and across a field. Mr. Pearce gave chase for a quarter-mile stretch, but he was by far the more corpulent of the two and had to give up the chase.

THE ALERT MR. BLACKBURN.

30,000 Pounds of Tobacco Sold at His Big Break.

The following is taken from yesterday's Fayetteville Observer:

Fayetteville began her career today as a tobacco market, and the indications are that it will have a most successful outcome. Yesterday afternoon, last night and early this morning wagons loaded with tobacco piled into this city, reminding one of the times before the war, and when at 11:30 o'clock, the opening sale in the Planters Warehouse began, the great floor space was covered with hundreds of piles, aggregating in weight fully 30,000 pounds.

There was a great crowd on the floor including many ladies, when the auctioneer, Mr. Bodenhemer, of Virginia, a master of his craft, began his remarkable "cry" which he kept up at lightning speed for nearly two hours, when the last pile was sold. As the auctioneer walked from pile to pile, he was surrounded by buyers from Danville, Greensboro, Rocky Mount, Clinton, Dunn and a number of other places, with the alert Mr. Blackburn, manager of the warehouse, in their midst, never letting slip an opportunity to make the yellow staple bring its full value.

Winston Flashes.

A letter from W. M. Creasy, of Wilmington, son of Dr W. S. Creasy, says that he had just returned from Baltimore, where he went to visit his father, who is in the hospital there. Mr. Creasy says that his father is not so well as when he first went to Baltimore, but that the physicians talk encouragingly.

A letter from Dr. R F. Gray, a prominent physician of Winston, who is sick at Deer Parks Hotel, Md., says that he is improving.

W. S. Forbes, of Richmond, today purchased the old People's National bank building and the tobacco building, owned by Col. J. W. Alspaugh, here.

Miss Jennie Buford was today elected teacher of the fourth grade in West Winston graded school.

ONCE MORE.

Some of the Newbern firemen are smarting and stinging under the echoes of their behavior while in this city last week. Goldsboro is not saying much. Yesterday's Newbern Journal contains a long article signed "Foreman Newbern S. F. E. Co., No 1," which labors heavily in trying to justify the Newbern boys in their unbecoming conduct. The writer quotes at length from the Record and Telegram but charges it all up to the Record. We want here to assume our part of what has been said, and to bring the controversy to a head we now challenge any man to deny any statement made in this paper. This writer, the editor of the Telegram, was present at every race, and has made none but true charges, such as came under his observation and such as he has other witnesses to prove.

Not only this, but we have the names of some of the men who did the swearing we have complained of, and who made charges that Greensboro had robbed them, or, more correctly speaking, that Greensboro firemen had done so. We formed some new acquaintances among the Newbern delegation, men whom it was a pleasure to meet and converse with, and taking up this matter was to us a painful duty, not that we thought the feelings of those who were guilty should be spared, but because we knew that all the Newbern and Goldsboro firemen were not guilty.

Robbery is a serious charge. Gen. Glenn, of the waterworks, has made a statement over his own signature, that there was positively no change in the water pressure. That should settle the "robbery" vaporings of the ex-champions.

The writer in the Journal seems to doubt that there was any misbehavior or vulgar language and loud swearing indulged in. Again we say to him or anyone else: Take up any issue of the Telegram and deny a single statement therein concerning this matter, and we are ready to furnish the names of men who did the swearing and who boasted of it, and of witnesses who heard it other than this writer. Thinking they would be sorry for it we withheld their names, but if the matter is forced, we shall further regret the necessity for what we shall say.

The State Farmers' Alliance is to be reorganized. This is a most needful organization and would prove of great usefulness to the farmers if men like the lamented Col. Polk were allowed to direct the helm. But under the leadership of such wiry politicians as Ramsey, late of the Progressive Farmer, who care no more for the interests of the farmers than to use their support and influence in reaching chunks of pie, the men of the plow were best left to plod their weary way alone. Out of politics the Farmers' Alliance is a good thing. We hope it will be revived, and rejuvenated, and purged of the prejudice and political rottenness its false leaders infused into it.

THE AMENDMENT.

The favorite argument advanced by the enemies of white supremacy in North Carolina in regard to the proposed adoption of the constitutional amendment, is the old threadbare cry of "taxation without representation," and that no man ought to be taxed unless he be allowed to vote. They say that it would be very unjust and a great hardship on any negro to make him pay tax and not allow him to vote.

Mr. H. A. London, that sterling democrat and excellent gentleman, has an editorial in this week's issue of his good paper, the Chatham Record, which covers the ground of refutation to these arguments perfectly, and easily shows our unequivocal right to restrict the ignorant, perverted suffraged of the colored class of our citizens, without a hint as to the mountains of reason that exist therefor:

"And yet these men," says the Record, "who think this so unjust, never say a word against making white men pay taxes to educate the children of negroes, who pay no tax!

"There are many persons now who pay taxes and yet cannot vote. There are many widows and other ladies who own property, who of course are not allowed to vote. There are also thousands of young men between eighteen and twenty-one years old, who cannot vote and yet have to pay tax by working the public roads. And there are other grown white men who pay taxes but cannot vote: such, for instance, as unnaturalized residents of the state. This last point was decided last week by Treasurer Worth in answer to the inquiry of the register of deeds of Martin county, who wrote the treasurer asking him the following question:

"'Is it legal to charge unnaturalized citizens who have been residents of a county for many years with a poll-tax?'

"Our state constitution in section I, article V. says that 'the general assembly shall levy a capitation tax on every male inhabitant of the state over twenty-one and under fifty years of age.' Therefore every male inhabitant between those ages, whether he be unnaturalized or native, must pay the required tax, although if unnaturalized he cannot vote. And what is done with this poll tax? The answer to this is found in section 2 of article V. of our state constitution, which says 'the proceeds of the state and county capitation tax shall be applied to the purposes of education and the support of the poor.'

"Most of the negroes who will be disfranchised by the proposed amendment pay no tax on properity but only on the poll, and all their poll tax is expended for the education of their children and the support of the poor, so that it is not so great a hardship on them to require them to continue doing this even if they cannot vote."

It has has been long since we read prettier, sweeter verse in rythm and sentiment than the following fugitive poem clipped from an exchange, entitled "Will the Lights Be White?" by the author of "Tales of an Engineer:"

Oft when I feel my engine swerve,
As o'er straight rails we fare,
I strain my eyes around the curve,
For what awaits us there.

When swift and free she carries me
Through yards unknown, at night,
I look along the line to see
That all the lamps are white.

Blue light (repair track) crippled car;
The green light signals "slow;"
The red light is a danger light,
The white light, "Let her go."

Again the open fields we roam,
And when the night is fair,
I gaze up in the starry dome
And wonder what is there.

For who can speak for those who dwell
Behind the curving sky?
No man has ever lived to tell
Just what it means to die.

Swift toward life's terminal I trend
The run seems short tonight,
God only knows what's at the end:
I hope the lamps are white.

It is said that a young man at Henderson is wearing mourning for Bob Ingersoll. The young man's name is Harrell and he is reported to have been a devoted disciple and admirer of the great agnostic.

The Banner Warehouse Company of Clarkton, Bladen county, was yesterday incorporated by the Secretary of State, with a capital stock of $2,000. The incorporators are: O. L. Clark, N. A. Currie and G. H. Currie. The object for which the corporation is formed is to carry on the the business usually carried on by tobacco warehouse men and dealers in leaf tobacco.

There was a novel sight on the streets of Pittsboro one day this week. A fusion magistrate sentenced a young negro child to the roads for a term of 16 days for fast driving and cruelly to animals. The chain that bound the prisoner were nearly as heavy as he was, besides two guards were acting as attendants to the prisoner, whose aggregate weight would foot up 350 pounds.

C. M. Goodman & Company, of Cabarrus county, have made the following splendid record on wheat and oats threshing this season. Wheat threshed 3,428 bushels, oats 1,587 bushels, making 5,015. This was threshed in 17 days, which is an average of a little over 297 bushels per day. This work was done within a radius of two and one-half miles of his home. The crop in Cabarrus county was quite satisfactory, turning out better than was at first expected.

Charlotte is now talking with both New York and Atlanta over the American Telegraph and Telephone Company's long distance lines. Mr. M. B. Spier, the district superintendent for North and South Carolina, complimented his newspaper friends of the morning paper and the Charlote News by giving them the privilege of conversing with the Columbia, Augusta and Atlanta newspapers. The engineers of the line held a conversation between New York and Atlanta. The southern circuit will be one of the longest in the world when it is completed. Charlotte is now connected with the principal cities of the north and south.

MERRITT MAY COMMAND.

According to Military Gossips He Will Succeed Otis.

Washington, August 10—The return of Secretary Root to Washington after consultation with the president has revived reports that General Otis will not conduct the active campaign in the Philippines next fall. These reports have been given color by Mr. Root's consultation with General Merritt in New York, and the impression among army officers is that Merritt's views on the proper course to pursue in the Philippines were solicited by Root. Mr Root said tonight that he did not care to discuss Otis' probable return, but added that the campaign would be pushed with vigor. It is believed that Root is anxious to have Merritt take command in the Philippines, but he feels that it would be unjust to recall Otis. It is regarded as certain, however, that Merritt will be chosen if Otis is recalled. The opinion is expressed also that Otis will be compelled to return to take part in the conference of the Philippine commission, and that thus the way will be opened for Merritt.

Copper Colored Splotches.

There is only one cure for Contagious Blood Poison—the disease which has completely baffled the doctors. They are totally unable to cure it, and direct their efforts toward bottling the poison up in the blood and concealing it from view. S. S. S. cures the disease positively and permanently by forcing out every trace of the taint.

I was afflicted with a terrible blood disease, which was in spots at first, but afterwards spread all over my body. These soon broke out into sores, and it is easy to imagine the suffering I endured. Before I became convinced that the doctors could do no good, I had spent a hundred dollars, which was really thrown away. I then tried various patent medicines, but they did not reach the disease. When I had finished my first bottle of S. S. S. I was greatly improved and was delighted with the result. The large red splotches on my chest began to grow paler and smaller, and before long disappeared entirely. I regained my lost weight, became stronger, and my appetite greatly improved. I was soon entirely well, and my skin as clear as a piece of glass.

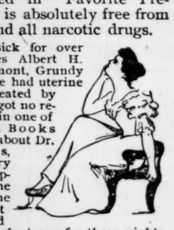
FRANK D. JONES, Superintendent.

The vision of the stork is one which brightens the eyes and quickens the heart beat of every young wife. Yet often the vision is never realized, and as the laughter of infant voices floats from without into the childless home the eyes sadden and the heart grows hungry.

It often happens that childlessness is due to conditions which may be corrected. Many women have found that the vitality and vigor imparted by Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription to the womanly organs, has been the one thing needful to fulfill the joy of motherhood. This famous medicine is not a cure-all, but a specialist's prescription, having as a single aim the cure of diseases peculiar to women.

Sick or weak women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., by letter, free of charge, thus avoiding the indelicate questions, offensive examinations, and local treatments, generally considered necessary by inexperienced practitioners. All letters are held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Each answer is sent in a perfectly plain envelope.

There is neither alcohol nor other intoxicant contained in "Favorite Prescription," and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine and all narcotic drugs.



"My wife was sick for over eight years," writes Albert H. Fulte, Esq., of Altamont, Grundy County, Tenn. "She had uterine disease and was treated by two physicians and got no relief. At last I read, in one of your Memorandum Books which you sent me, about Dr. Pierce's medicines, and we decided to try his 'Favorite Prescription.' I sent to the drug store and got one bottle and the first dose gave ease and sleep. She had not slept any for three nights. Being sure that it would cure her I sent for five more bottles, and when she had taken the sixth bottle she was sound and well. We now have a fine boy at our house."

ROBBERY OF JAYS IN NEW YORK.

The Mazet Committee Finds Much Difficulty in Securing Witnesses.

New York, August 9—Almost all the testimony elicited at the meeting of the Mazet leg'slative investigating committee to-day, was for the purpose of showing how frequently men are robbed in this city while paying visits to the Tenderloin, the Bowery, and other sections of the city where groups gather after the midnight hour. Mr. Moss had difficulty in obtaining witnesses for to-day's session. The men who had been the victims of this sort of crime appeared decidedly averse to appearing before the committee and telling about it.

Two hundred and fifty subpoenas had been issued for men who had been robbed by women. Not a quarter of these men could be found. Nevertheless Mr. Moss was able to put witness after witness upon the stand and secure account after account of robberies alleged to have occurred in disorderly houses in this city. Occasionally the witnesses under oath, told of facts which appeared to show collusion between the police and the female robbers. Mr. Moss announced that similar testimony with variations, would be produced before the committee tomorrow. The variations, it is understood, refer to an investigation of the opium dens of the city.

Dr. Anderson Bailed.

Danville, Va., August 10—At Chatham the conclusion of the investigation of the case of Dr John C. Anderson, indicted for seduction and attempted murder came to an end sooner than expected, the commonwealth's attorney having decided not to show the strength of his case by putting all his witnesses on the stand.

Judge Tredway decided to admit the prisoner to bail for his appearance at September court in the sum of $12,500—$2,500 on the indictment for seduction and $10,000 on the indictment for attempted murder. Anderson gave the bonds promptly, and with his wife and sister left for home.

Is It Right for an Editor to Recommend Patent Medicines?

From Sylvan Valley News, Brevard, N. C.

It may be a question whether the editor of a newspaper has the right to publicly recommend any of the various proprietary medicines which flood the market, yet as a preventive of suffering we feel it a duty to say a good word for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. We have known and used this remedy in our family for twenty years and have always found it reliable. In many cases a dose of this remedy would save hours of suffering while a physician is awaited. We do not believe in depending implicitly on any medicine for a cure, but we do believe that if a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy were kept on hand and administered at the inception of an attack much suffering might be avoided and in very many cases the presence of a physician would not be requred. At least this has been our experience during the past twenty years. For sale by C. F. Holton, druggist.

"I like to hear a servant girl sing at her work. It shows a good disposition. "Not always. I think ours sings because she has a grudge against us."

Hoax—"I tell you, old chap, the automobile is here to stay." Joax—"So? I thought it was here to go."

You assume no risk when you buy Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. C. E. Holton will refund your money if you are not satisfied after using it. It is every where admitted to be the most successful remedy in use for bowel camplaint and the only one that never fails. It is pleasant, safe and seliable.

Yes, Maude, dear, it would be quite proper to refer to the young gentlemen who go in bathing off the wharves as striplings.

"Our baby was sick for a month with severe cough and catarrhal fever. Although we tried many remedies she kept getting worse until we used One Minute Cough Cure—it relieved at once and cured her in a few days."—B. L. Nance, Prin. High School, Bluffdale, Texas. Howard Gardner.

"This," remarked the storekeeper as he proudly contemplated his new brass sign, "is what I call polished English."

Yellow Jaundice Cured

Suffering humanity should be supplied with ezery means possible for its relief. It is with pleasure we publish the following: "This is to certify that I was a terrible sufferer from yellow jaundice for over six months, and was treated by some of the best physicians in our city and all to no avail. Dr. Bell, our druggist, recommended Electric Bitters; and after taking two bottles I was entirely cured. I now take great pleasure in recommending them to any person suffering from this terrible malady. I am gratefully yours. M. A. Hogarty, Lexington, Ky." Sold by C. F. Holton, druggist.

A Hero's Prescience of Death.

Osgood, N. C., August 5—Major Laban Odell was a brilliant young man of a ten-talented family, born in Randolph county, N. C., on a small farm near my own. I loved him fondly; he was one of my teachers. I volunteered in his brother J. M. Odell's company at the beginning of the war. Ere long Laban became major of the 22nd North Carolina regiment, and I the captain of his company.

At Chancellorsville, on the night of the 2nd of May, 1863, my dear major came to me (all then lying in line of battle) and lay down beside me and took me in his arms and said, "Dear Frank, I have been under the fire of the enemy twenty-one times and in thirteen regular engagements, and I have not been touched by a ball, but tomorrow morning when we go forward I shall be killed. Please take this gold watch and these photos to my dear wife." I refused to take them and tried to convince him that it was only a notion of his, but he said he knew he would be killed and put the watch and pictures in my vest pocket and said "take them to Mary." I then entreated him not to go into the battle at all. He said he "must do his duty," and drew me closer to his bosom, kissed me and said "good bye, Frank; tell Mary to raise our dear Johnnie right and meet me in heaven."

This was just as day was breaking on the morning of the 3rd of May, 1863. About sunrise we went forward. Soon I was wounded and, coming off the field, I saw that most gallant young hero lying in a dying condition, just as he said (he never spoke to me any more above a whisper). He said, "I told you so; do as I requested," and these were his last words. I was wounded in the right arm and right thigh, but with my left limbs I aided best I could in partially concealing his body and marking the spot so that his noble brothers secured it and now in the old cemetery at Gray's Chapel, near where he was reared, by the side of his grand old parents and loved one, lie his remains, over which towers a costly monument, the only one in the county known to me over a Confederate soldier.

God bless all who are near and dear to this hero of heroes, and grant that they all may meet again where there is no more war.

Since then I have always signed my name C. "Frank" Siler.

P. S.—I also had in my care the remains of my dear Lieutenant Colonel L. L. Cole, of Greensboro, who fell dead a few steps from my major. General Lee had in his army no one who surpassed these two noble, Godly, glorious officers in all the qualities that go to make up the Christian soldier, and very few equals, I think.—Chatham Record.

Mr. A Saunders, writing from Cocoanut Grove, Fla., says there has been quite an epidemic of diarrhoea there. He had a severe attack and was cured by four doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says he also recommended it to others and they say it is the best medicine they ever used. For sale by C. E. Holton.

Old Sweetheart-Loves.

'Tis not the dreams of night,
When eye-lids veil the sight,
That proffer sweet delight.
'Tis dreams in gentle day,
When dreamily we stay
Where care's all brushed away.
From there, these dreams, all fond,
Creep toward the calm Beyond,
Then, back, from God's Aboves,
To dream o'er sweetheart-loves—
Loves, that old old hearts yet know,
Sweet, from the long-ago,
Old lasting loves, in soul,
To ne'er again be told,
Old loves that fonder seem
When seeping through the dream—
Old loves, with quiet sigh,
Too true and sweet to die.

Seeking Rest, Or Health Or Pleasure?

Then Read This:

Mt. Vernon Springs Hotel is now open for the reception of guests. The waters from the Mt. Vernon Springs are equalled by few and surpassed by none in the state for medicinal and curative properties. Some of its cures are almost miraculous. Its taste is pleasant, cool, palatable and refreshing, and you enjoy it from the first. The springs are surrounded by great natural beauty. Around the premises is a dense oak grove and the air is pure and invigorating.

This most desirable of health and pleasure resorts is located just one mile west of Ore Hill in Chatham county. For further information address the owner and proprietor,

"Line of Parade"

For the Firemen's Tournament was published in the papers with one exception, and that was, instead of stopping at the court house, they ought to have added: From there everybody will go to the Greensboro Pressing Club and have their suit or uniform neatly cleaned and pressed.

Now don't forget this. You will want to look neat and clean, so profit by the above. Phone 162 will get us.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Hiatt Grissom went to Mocksville today.

Mrs. Percy R. Albright went to Raleigh at noon.

Will H. Matthews spent this afternoon in Liberty.

Mrs. J. N. Leak went to Winston at noon to visit relatives.

Rev. J. Ernest Thacker and wife arrived at noon from Charlotte.

R. D. Phillips left at noon for Harpers X Roads to spend a few days at home.

Miss Lillie Leak, who has been visiting in the city for several days, returned home at noon.

Rev. R. A. Brown, of Waycross, Ga., accompanied by his wife and baby is visiting relatives and friends in the city.

Dr. J. Miller Moore, who was surgeon on the Olympia during the fight at Manila, passed through the city today on No. 36.

The dance at McAdoo Hall last night was a great success. About a dozen couples were present and dancing was kept up until a late hour.

We regret to announce that increased business interests have prevented Mr. R. B. Crawford from accepting the position of teacher in the eighth grade of the West End City School. Mr. Crawford's resignation was handed the school board last month. Mr Crawford is an amiable, learned and highly esteemed gentleman and by his resignation the school has lost an excellent instructor.—Winston Journal.

"GOING NORTH."

The Servant Employment Agency a Success In Greensboro.

"How's business?" asked a reporter this morning, addressing the man who presides over the little desk in the little room at 333½ South Elm street, before which are tacked up a dozen or more little "Employment Agency" signs.

"Pretty good," came the reply. "I've been here two weeks and have sent off about fifty cooks—all colored women."

"Where do you send them?"

"Different places—mostly New York, New Jersey, and Connecticut."

"What wages do they get?"

"Oh, from $10 to $20 a week—somewhere along there."

And so they go. Some of them to make a success and some to fail and the latter to write home for money to come back on. All of them will find plenty of hard work to do and some of them will not do it. Very few of the cooks in Greensboro seem to give satisfaction here and fewer of them will give it in the north.

But—success to the agency.

Unpleasant Charity.

A poor old negro driving a much poorer and, in proportion to the time allotted respectively to man and beast to play their parts and shuffle off this mundane sphere, an older horse, is not an infrequent sight on Greensboro's streets. It is hard to deprive the old negro of his only apparent means of support, but sometimes the police feel called upon to do so. Officer Pearce had a case of this kind yesterday. The old man, with his scant white beard, was plodding along with a lame horse and the officer ordered that the beast be allowed to spend his few remaining days in rest and peace. The old man gave under and promised to quit working the animal and provide for it. How, he did not know.

Damages Assessed.

In the case of McAdoo against the C. F. & Y. V. Railway company, two or three years ago a jury assessed dmages a $1,290. At the last term of Guilford superior court the matter came up for hearing again, another jury was selected and yesterday they met to determine the amount the plaintiffs are entitled to recover. After a careful investigation they made up a verdict for $1,620.

This suit was brought for the alleged encroachment of the C. F. & Y. V. railroad on the property of the McAdoo heirs in building sidetracks east of the depot in this city.

Thanks to Mr. West.

Recognition has been made by the Daily Record of the invaluable services of James H. West in whooping up the gala week, and mentions the fact that he was overlooked when a vote of thanks was being taken. Mr. West was too modest about what he had done. It is true that he gave much time to advertising the occasion, but it was of his own volition, and very few people knew that he was working so hard. However, it is never too late to give credit where credit is due and we desire to join our neighbor in thanking Mr. West. He is a hummer, and puts in telling licks at whatever he undertakes.

Striped hemp carpet, 12½ cents, fancy cottage carpet, 20 cents, cotton and jute combination carpets, 25 cents, special styles in half wool extra super carpets, 35 cents, a dozen good styles union ingrain carpets, 40, 42½ and 45 cents, and a magnificent line of strictly all wool ingrains at 50, 55 and 60 cents, at Thacker & Brockmann's. THAT BIG HOTEL.

Something More of the Size of the Structure--Notes.

W. C. Bain, of this city, who has contracted for the erection of the mammoth new hotel at Pinehurst, is having a wood-working plant installed there, thus making it feasible for him to prepare his own lumber on the site. Mr. Bain is a hustler.

The new hotel will probably be the largest frame building in the state, containing three hundred bed rooms, besides the office and other necessary apartments. Work on the building is now under way and lumber is being delivered there as fast as the mills can fill the orders—several car loads going in at a shipment.

Mr. Bain, unlike most contractors at this time, says that he is not experiencing a great deal of trouble in securing the material.

The building will require thirteen hundred doors and more than a thousand window sash.

Wanted.

About 20 young ladies to make overalls and pants. Apply at factory on Buchanan street from 6:15 to 6:45 p. m.
